

The Qu'Appelle Progress

Vol. XII.

QU'APPELLE STATION, N. W. T., THURSDAY, SEPT. 9, 1897.

No. 47

Cleanliness

Is next to Godliness

Wash and be Clean

With

Wheat at $1 a bushel

And

Soap at 25c a doz. up

Everyone can afford to be clean.

ALL KINDS OF TOILET SOAPS.

HENDERSON & PARKER

DRUGGISTS,

QU'APPELLE STATION, N. W. T.

Successors to J. A. Unsworth & Co.

S. H. Caswell & Co.,

BANKERS,

Financial and Insurance Agents

COLLECTIONS SOLICITED—RETURNS PROMPTLY MADE.

Five Per Cent. Interest Allowed on Deposit Accounts.

CORRESPONDENTS: MONTGOMERY BANK, Winnipeg, MERCHANTS BANK OF CANADA, Toronto.

Cheques and Drafts for all parts of the World Bought and Sold.

Qu'Appelle Station. - - Assa.

CREAMER & GRAY,

DEALERS IN

American & Canadian

Wagons, Plows and Bicycles,

Carriages, Buckboards, Horse Rakes, Harrows, Twine, Barb Wire, Etc.

AGENTS FOR

McGormick's

BINDERS and MOWERS, SYLVESTER DRILLS.

Full stock of Repairs always on hand

Office and Warehouse:

Pacific Ave., one door east of Leland hotel, QU'APPELLE STATION, ASSA.

Fresh Killed Meat

H. BRAY,

Wholesale and Retail

BUTCHER

QU'APPELLE STREET,

QU'APPELLE STATION.

DRESSED: PORK: AND: POULTRY

BOUGHT: AND: SOLD.

CUSTOM SOLICITED

Oranges Lemons, Bananas, Groceries,

Canned Goods, Tobacco, etc. A fresh stock

AT MRS. AMBLER'S.

T. COWAN,

Blacksmith and carriage Maker

Hot shoeing and all repairing done on shortest notice. Satisfaction Guaranteed.

QU'APPELLE STATION, ASSA.

A SNAP.

9 VOLS. Chambers Encyclopedia

for Home use, for sale at a bargain.

Apply at Progress Office.

TO PERSONS

Desirous of obtaining

A Home Cheap

I will offer Special Bargains in the

S. E. 1/4 Sec. 6, Tp. 20, Rge 14

W. 1/2 " 6, " 18, " 14

W. 1/2 " 23, " 19, " 14

For the next few days.

MONEY TO LOAN

for purchasing land, etc.

Any person found cutting hay on Ontario & Qu'Appelle Lands will be out of luck for once.

J. DOOLITTLE, Agent.

QU'APPELLE VALLEY

FLOUR - - MILLS

(Established 1884),

FORT QU'APPELLE.

GRISTING

HUNGARIAN PATENT STRONG BAKERS, GRAHAM

BRAN, SHORTS, CHOP, CRACKED WHEAT.

Chopper for Grinding Feed Stuff.

Full supply always on hand at CREAMER & GRAY'S, Qu'Appelle Station.

Support Local Industry.

JOYNER & ELKINGTON, PROPRIETORS.

See

My New Stock of Harness, Whips, Saddles, Brushes, Curry Combs, Trunks, Valises, etc., Boots and Shoes, before buying elsewhere.

See me for Flour & Feed also Coal Oil. Yours for Bargains, GEO. AMBLER.

CITY MEAT MARKET

R. Johnston,

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL

Butcher.

HIGHEST MARKET PRICE PAID FOR CATTLE, SHEEP, HOGS, AND POULTRY.

Corned Beef, No. 1 Smoked Ham and Bacon, Dry Salt Bacon, Salt Fish.

Fresh B. C. Salmon Every Friday.

LETTUCE, ONIONS, RHUBARB.

Main St., Qu'Appelle Station, Assa

A. HOLLINGSHEAD,

House, Sign and Carriage Painter.

Graining, Glazing, Paper Hanging and Kalsomining

ALL WORK PROMPTLY EXECUTED.

QU'APPELLE STATION and INDIAN HEAD.

C. BABBIT,

AGENT FOR

NEW SINGER VIBRATOR SEWING MACHINES.

Sewing Machine and Gun Oil. Watchmaker and Jeweller. Sewing Machines and Guns Repaired on shortest notice. Qu'Appelle Station and Indian Head, Assa.

BY RAIL, STAGAN LAKE, WAGHORN'S GUIDE

WAGHORN'S GUIDE AT BOOKSTORES 5c

BRINE & FETHERSTONHAUGH, LIVERY STABLES

LEGAL.

A. D. DICKSON, Barrister, Advocate, Solicitor, etc. Office, first door south of the Queen's Hotel, Qu'Appelle St.

MEDICAL.

D. W. C. CARLHEW, Qu'Appelle, Physician, Surgeon, Coroner, Etc. Graduate Toronto University and Licentiate College Physicians and Surgeons, Ont.

W. HENDERSON, M.D.C.M., Graduate of McGill University, Licentiate of College of Physicians and Surgeons, N.W.T. Office over the drug store.

Merchant & Tailors

IF YOU WANT A GOOD FITTING SUIT OF CLOTHES, CALL ON

J. H. Brethauer & Co.,

Who have got

THE BEST AND MOST FASHIONABLE Samples on the market.

Prices Right. Give Us a Call.

J. B. ROBINSON, Contractor & Builder

Estimates given and all work promptly attended to.

S. H. COLLINS, Boot and Shoe Maker

Qu'Appelle Street,

QU'APPELLE STATION, - - ASSA.

Repairs done on short notice.

WANTED.

CANVASSERS—Queen Victoria: Her Life and Reign, has captured the British Empire. Extraordinary testimonials from the great men; send for copy free. Marquis of Lorne says, "The best popular life of the Queen I have seen." Her Majesty sends a kind letter of appreciation. Selling by thousands: gives enthusiastic satisfaction. Canvassers making $15 to $40 weekly. Prospectus free to agents. THE BRADLEY-GARRISON CO., Limited, Toronto, Can.

Wanted.

Men and women who can work hard talking and writing six hours daily, for six days a week, and will be content with ten dollars weekly. Address: NEW IDEAS CO., Brantford, Ont.

WANTED—Farmers' Sons or other industrious persons of fair education to whom $60 a month would be an inducement. I could also engage a few ladies at their own homes. T. H. LINSCOTT, Toronto, Ont.

WANTED—Solicitors for "Canada, an Encyclopedia of the Country," in Five Royal Quarto Volumes. No delivering. Commission paid weekly. A canvasser reports his first week making over seventy dollars profit. THE LINSCOTT COMPANY, Toronto.

FOR SALE.

A GOOD FARM for sale. Cheap for cash, or will exchange for cattle. Apply at The Progress Office.

AGENTS—I am just starting the best thing for money making you have seen for many a day. Your name and address will bring the golden information. R. P. GLASGOW, Toronto, Ont.

PATENTS PROMPTLY SECURED

Send a stamp for our beautiful book "How to Get a Patent." What procedure to event, "Patent Practice." Advice free. Freehold, "Patent Practice," 100, Queen St. W., Toronto. The only firm of Graduate Engineers in the Dominion transacting Patent Business.

ON TRAINS WAGHORN'S GUIDE AT BOOKSTORES 5c

Qu'Appelle : Progress

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY At the Printing Office, Qu'Appelle Station, Assa, N. W. T., Canada.

Subscription Price $1 per annum in advance; $1.50 if not so paid.

Advertising rates on application. S. T. SCOTT, Editor and Proprietor.

THURSDAY, SEPT. 9, 1897.

Outlook For Wheat Prices.

From The Commercial. At the time of writing wheat prices have not held at the top notch which they reached recently, but a moderate reaction from the rapid advance was only what was expected. The advance was so rapid that it would have been surprising if there had not been some reaction.

The wheat outlook is still very strong. Reactions will come, but nevertheless we look for a strong market for some time. The statistical position of wheat is very strong, and from this point of view alone, good argument can be adduced why wheat prices should be maintained at a higher level than they have been for some years.

The great feature of the position of wheat lies in the fact that the wheat producers of North America hold the key to the situation this year. Stocks of old wheat are short, we may say, the world over, and in nearly all countries outside of North America crop reports indicate diminished supplies of new wheat. On the other hand Canada and the United States have produced good crops. North America holds the principal wheat surplus this year, and everything indicates that prices will be maintained, if not further advanced.

THE CROPS.

Crop estimates vary widely, but the quality of the new crop is generally spoken of favorably. A little new wheat is moving, and at a few points quite a liberal quantity of new wheat was offered on some days. Threshing is going on actively, though the custom of threshing from the stook or shock is not regarded with favor by grain men and millers, who claim that the quality of the grain is improved by remaining in stack for a while before threshing. The weather has averaged warmer this week than during the two previous weeks, and has been favorable to maturing any late patches of grain.

OPINION ON THE CROP.

"According to my information to date," said Mr. F. W. Thompson, of the Ogilvie Milling Co., Thursday morning, "I estimate the Manitoba wheat crop this season at from 15,000,000 to 16,000,000 bushels. Threshing yields reported so far bear out this opinion fully."

FLAX SEED.

A year ago the price of flax seed at Chicago was 64c to 65c. Two years ago it was quoted at 98c to $1.00 per bushel. Three years ago the Chicago quotation for flax seed was ranging about $1.45 to $1.50 per bushel. This season there has been a wide range in prices, with a very strong upward movement. Last week $1.03 was quoted at Chicago, while a week previous as high as $1.20 was quoted.

APPLES.

Ontario farmers are contracting winter apples at $1.50 per barrel in the orchard, or equal to $2 on board cars. A year ago prices opened at 50 to 60c per barrel and dropped to 30 to 40c in the orchards. The apple crop of Canada represents only about 40 per cent of an average yield this year, but it will pay the farmers better than the big crop of last year.

THE man who at the present day makes a success of agriculture must give it his best attention. The farmer who leaves the hired man to do the work and goes off to town and spends his time discussing the policy of the government and grumbling about the country, is the one who almost invariably has a poor crop and is everlastingly complaining that the world is against him.

Farming, like every other business, in order to make a success of it, requires honest, faithful work. There are hundreds of farmers in the Northwest who commenced with little or no capital, and who are now, by reason of strict attention to business, successful and prosperous men. Our country is all right, and the man who fails to make a good living has only himself to blame. The diligent and industrious farmer is sure to succeed, and we have strong evidence of this fact in our district.

THE Conservative Association of Regina held a meeting on Friday last to congratulate Mr. Davin on his recent protest victory. Speeches were made by both Conservatives and Liberals complimenting him on his victory. Mr. Davin, in closing, made a very strong and eloquent speech, devoting his time principally to the protest, which he declared was dropped because there was not sufficient evidence to unseat him.

A SHELL BURST

And He Thought the Bumping in His Head Was Caused by It—Dr. Agnew's Catarrh Powder Undoes Him and Cures a Case of Chronic Catarrh of Thirty Years' Standing.

"I have had chronic catarrh ever since the war. The disease affected my hearing greatly. There was a disagreeable ringing in my ears which I had attributed to the fact of a shell bursting near me during an engagement. I used three bottles of Dr. Agnew's Catarrh Powder and my hearing was entirely restored. The powder is a great relief to my eyes and pleasant to apply. I have no hesitation in recommending it as a quick and certain cure for catarrh in the most delicate form." J. J. Taylor, 210 N. Clinton Ave., Trenton, N.J. For sale by Henderson & Parker.

Wheat Moving Early.

New wheat is being delivered at country points in large quantities, says the Winnipeg Free Press, and the first shipments reached Fort William on Monday, the earliest date at which new grain is known to have reached that point. Seventeen carsloads are reported at the elevators there on Monday. Several trains are now on the track en route east, as eighty cars were loaded at different points along the C. P. R. yesterday, though that does not represent the aggregate quantity delivered at interior elevators, which totaled nearly 100,000 bushels. Good prices prevailed throughout the country, Assiniboia reporting the lowest quotation, 73c per bushel for No. 1 hard, while at Deloraine the price was 84c for the same grade. Poplar Point was the only place quoting a price for No. 2 hard, 78c. Following were the prevailing prices on Tuesday at points named, for No. 1 hard wheat:

Regina, 78c; Poplar Point, 77c; Portage la Prairie, 78c; Metegregor, 78c; Assiniboia, 78c; Seely, 78c; Douglas, 78c; Brandon, 78c; Kenney, 78c; Alexander, 76c; Griswold, 77c; Oak Lake, 77c; Balgonie, 76c; Pense, 74c; Napinka, 76c; Melita, 76c; Alameda, 73c; Carman, 75c; Treherne, 75c; Holland, 75c; Cypress River, 75c; Glenboro, 75c; Stockton, 75c; Rosefield, 75c; Greta, 75c; Plum Coulee, 75c; Winifred, 75c; Niska, 75c; Whitewater, 75c; Deloraine, 80c; Altona, 75c.

Edgeley Echoes.

On Friday, 17th inst., there will be a meeting of the R. T. of T. in the Methodist church, to commence at 8 p.m. sharp. A first-class programme will be provided, consisting of songs, readings, recitations and a debate between the "Select Councilor" and "Secretary" subject, whether "Country or city life is the most enjoyable." Come one, come all. A collection to be taken at the close of the meeting.

The Edgeley football club have won many honors this season, among them a silver cup and two footballs, one of which was given by Mr. Cameron. It has lately arrived from Scotland and is the admiration of all.

The Messrs. Root, who came from Ontario in the spring, are so well pleased with this locality that they have purchased half of section 19 and are erecting dwelling houses thereon.

Edgeley carried off many of the prizes at the Central exhibition which was held at Fort Qu'Appelle, among them being two taken by Misses Nade and Clara Craig for school work.

School re-opened Friday, Aug. 13th, with our much esteemed teacher, Mr. Wilson, in charge. The school has lately been improved with a stone foundation and a coat of paint.

A great deal of vacant land has been sold to both old and new settlers, and breaking and summer-fallowing has been progressing vigorously this summer.

We have a good Sunday school in connection with the Methodist church here. The Rev. Mr. Galley will preach to the Sunday school on the 12th inst.

The ducks have been quite numerous on the many dams, but the city sports take great pleasure in thinning them out.

The Indians are taking wood into town daily, a procession of eight loads being seen at once.

Mr. Jarvis, teacher of the Red Fox school, spent his vacation at Mr. J. Whitingham's.

We are pleased to welcome Alex. and Maggie Tate back from Weyburn.

Mrs. Gray, and daughter, of Winnipeg, are visiting in the neighborhood.

Mr. Feasant has built an addition to his already commodious house.

Mr. F. Bell, of Wingham, Ont., is visiting at F. G. Whitingham's.

Cutting is about finished and stacking is in full swing.

INEZ

(Continued from last issue.)
She looked at the clock.
Of course when the time was long
To sit and wait for him to come.
She took up something with her.
The moment that she knew that
With her own hands she had checked
And passed upon her breast.

I saw them, surely I saw,
Stand at the station door,
With bits of baggage piled about
And looking at each other
And then with a sudden start away.
Their words I caught they were,
It might have been a beautiful dream
If it had been anything more.

Farwell, good-bye, good-bye!
That man from across the way
So far away in his eyes
Or ran so light before—
Alas, for pleasure that is past
And sorrow that is in store,
The smile that had once been a heart
Has broken many more.

(See also poem of same title by the late Tom Hood.)

Springbrook Sittings.

(From our own correspondent.)

A meeting of the literary and debating society was held in this school on Friday evening. The main feature was the opening of the new library, composed of one hundred and forty-nine volumes, and judging from the enthusiasm expressed by those present, the collection appeared to be well chosen. The books were read by the way they have been selected in selecting books to put the minds of the different people in the school. The amount expended was about $50, which shows that although the books are of the best, they were purchased very cheaply. After having read and signed names upon which the books were to be given out, Mr. Nelson was appointed librarian.

The Messrs. Moore, and their mother, who were visiting the Progress Book, left for the coast last Monday.

Stacking is well advanced, and by the end of the week the majority will have finished.

Mr. A. Schickel is up from the east visiting his brother.

Hymeneal.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in St. John's church on Tuesday. The bride, the contracting party being Mr. Phillips and Miss Hunt, residents of Weyburn. The groom was supported by Mr. Hunt, brother of the bride, who was also her escort. The bridesmaid was Miss Dorothy Sheldon, Williams, of Canamington Manor. The bride was most becomingly dressed in a pretty grey gown and tulle to match. After the ceremony the wedding party repaired to the vicarage for refreshments. The happy couple left for their home at Weyburn amidst showers of rice.—Valette.

Obituary.

WILLIAM OUPHANT, Sr.
On Saturday morning last, the sad news spread through Spencer city settlement that William Ouphant, Sr., who has been living for the past few months, had quietly passed away, at the aged of 72 years. Although not unexpected, very few seemed to think that the end was so near. The funeral on Sunday, was attended by a large number of sorrowing friends and relatives, who wished to show their last respects to their departed friend. The late Mr. Ouphant settled here some four years ago, having come from Gorrie, Ont., where he carried on the business of carriage painting for some twenty-five years. He leaves a wife, daughter (Mrs. Gates) and son to mourn his loss and to whom the sympathy of the entire community is extended.

Berber is in possession of Soufianese friendly to Great Britain.

A treaty of defence is reported to be arranged between Belgium and Holland.

When a baby smiles in its sleep it is the mother's fond belief that an angel is blessing it. Now woman attains the supreme joy of womanhood when she knows the supreme sorrow of womanhood until she sees her baby in the cold embrace of death.

Thousands of women daily achieve womanhood's supreme joy only to meet a few days or weeks of death later its supreme sorrow. This is because so many babies are born into the world with the seeds of death already sown in their little bodies. If a woman would have healthy robust children strong and able to withstand the usual little diseases of childhood, she must "look before she leaps."

If a woman will take the proper care of her health in a womanly way during the period of prospective maternity, she may protect herself against much pain and suffering and possible death, and insure the health of her child. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest of all medicines for prospective mothers. It acts directly on the delicate and important organs that bear the burdens of maternity and makes them strong, healthy, vigorous and elastic. It always inflammation, heals ulceration, soothes pain and tones the tortured nerves. It banishes the usual discomforts of the expectant period and makes baby's advent to this world easy and almost painless. It insures an ample supply of nourishment. It is the greatest known nerve tonic and invigorator for women. All good dealers sell it. Say "No" and stick to it when urged to accept a substitute said to be just as good as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

I had miscarried twice and was so weak I could not stand on my feet. writes Mrs. Minnie Smith, P. M. of Lowell, Mass. I took two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and now have a healthy baby and am stronger than ever before.

The quick constipation cure—Dr. Dettmer's Pleasant Pellets. Never gripe. Accept no substitutes or imitations.

OU'APPELLE PROGRESS.

Thursday, September 9, 1897.

THE NEWS OF THE DAY.

A FEW BRIEF PARAGRAPHS FOR BUSY PEOPLE.

The Flotsam and Jetsam of the World
Around us Portrayed in Condensed Items, Which Treat of Men and Things in a General Way.

A storekeeper in Bath, Me., says that rats never gnaw hemlock chests.

Thirty-seven thousand Spanish troops are suffering from disease in Cuba.

There were 230 applicants for a single chaplaincy in the United States army recently.

The United States government are taking measures to enforce the Chinese exclusion law.

Laboring men have 312 workdays a year in Hungary, 248 in the United States, 275 in England, 267 in Russia.

C. P. R. earnings for July and for the first seven months of 1897 show a satisfactory increase over the same periods of 1896.

The membership of the League of American Wheelmen up to date is 90,000. Who will not say that the world is all wheel?

An international congress is being arranged in Paris for the discussion of means of preventing fires in theatres and other places of public resort.

Farmers of Northampton Co., Va., have received more money for the 100,000 barrels of potatoes shipped this year, than for the 250,000 shipped last year.

Jersey City has a lawyer who, having settled an estate of $1,250, was awarded $100 for his services and refused to take it because it was an exorbitant price.

The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, of Portland, Me., has prevented two entertainments, in which the chief feature was to be chasing geese.

A Portland, Me., cyclist took his wheel to pieces to clean it, putting the small pieces, bearings, etc., on the doorstep, where they were gobbled up by some chickens.

Chief of Police Nichols, of Port Arthur, Ont., was dangerously stabbed by a Finlander. There are several wounds on each side of his throat. The assailant was arrested.

Spanish trains seldom leave stations on time that the timetables in many cases merely indicate the hour of departure, say, 8 and "minute"—that is an indefinite number of minutes after 8.

Russia has the largest military expenses, $250,000,000 a year. Britain follows next with $100,000,000, France with $100,000,000, Germany with $100,000,000, Austria $100,000,000, Italy $100,000,000.

The largest creamery in the world is said to be near St. Albans, Vt. Twelve thousand cows, owned by 700 farmers, supply the cream, and the average daily product is 10,000 pounds, or five tons, of butter.

The president of the United States has awarded a magnificent luncheon glass to Capt. Wm. Davidson, of the Barquette Africa, of Hantsport, N. S., for humane services in rescuing the United States schooner Thomas N. Stone.

Alex. McRae has been sentenced at St. Catharines, Ont., to four years' imprisonment for embezzlement and forgery committed seven years ago. Judge Collier commented on the painful nature of the case but said a severe sentence was necessary.

The pneumatic tubes to connect the New York and Brooklyn post offices, for which the street excavations are nearly completed, will carry letters between the two points in three minutes and a half. Wagons require half an hour to make the transfer.

The authorities of Milan have decided to stop street sprinkling on very warm days on the ground that the process only aggravates the situation, as moist heat is much more disagreeable than dry heat. It is also argued that the sprinkling favors the growth of injurious bacteria.

The Kingston News announces that Hon. Wm. Hart, successor to the late Christopher Fraser, as Catholic representative in the Ontario cabinet, will retire from the cabinet shortly and will certainly not again be a candidate. Mr. Hart has been very ill for some time past.

A special from Paducah, Ky., says: Meagre particulars of wholesale poisoning reached this city from Gallatin county. Eight persons are reported to have been poisoned by eating a melon stolen from a neighbor's patch. Seven members are dead and the eighth is in a critical condition.

Mines, the new explosive, which its inventor claims will revolutionize modern naval warfare, was tested recently in Lake Michigan near Chicago, with satisfactory results. The inventor claims that Mines can be thrown from a cannon any distance, and will explode in the water at any depth desired.

Fame may be acquired easily in a small town, but sometimes it takes a long while. The most noted man in Auburn, Me., is a man who is publicly known to have worn the same straw hat for twenty-six summers and the same cloth cap forty-two winters, without a break for repairs or renovation.

The great bridge to be built at Montreal, 7,000 feet long, will be constructed by American contractors and American iron. It will have twenty-three spans of 242 feet each and one of 335. There will be two railroad tracks, two trolleyways and two foot paths. The bridge will be completed within a year.

Gen. Anagnaga, the Spanish premier, at the cabinet council over which he presided recently, declared the government would follow in the footsteps of the late premier, Sr. Canovas del Castillo. He announced the government had full confidence in Captain-General Weyler's political and military conduct of affairs in Cuba.

According to the New York Evening Post, George A. Brill, of Poughkeepsie,

Duchess County, who was graduated from Cornell University in 1888, recently received a cable dispatch from Li Hung Chang offering him a liberal sum to organize and manage a model farm in China under the government. He will accept the offer and will soon leave for China to enter upon his duties.

There is a great boom in Newfoundland owing to the recent discoveries of coal on the west coast. The deposits are very extensive and the seams vary in width from six to thirteen feet. The quality of the product is believed to be equal to the best Welsh steam coal. Experts pronounce the prospects excellent. Sixty thousand tons are already visible and it is expected that coal mining will become one of the most promising resources of the island.

The Dominion bank at Nanaimo was entered the other night by professional burglars. The vault was opened, the combination having been discovered, and $12,000 was taken. The burglars changed the combination and the bank people could not unravel it. Experts were secured and the vault was opened, when the big robbery was discovered. The burglars secured entrance through the back premises by removing boards and a door panel. There is no clue.

UNCLE SAM'S DOMAINS.

Peculiar Incidents Respecting Our Neighbors Across the Border.

Mary Cryan, of New York, was young and pretty, but she had an eye to the future, and was fearful of becoming too fat to conform to the usual standard of beauty. This fear preyed on her mind so much that she finally became insane, and while crossing the river on a ferry boat, jumped off the deck and was drowned.

Mrs. Catherine Leonard, of Holyoke, Mass., met death in a peculiar manner a few days ago. She was crossing the floor with a dish in her hand when she stumbled and fell. The dish reached the floor first and broke, and as she fell a sharp piece of the crockery pointed upward pierced her throat, cutting a gash two inches wide and killing her.

For more than two years Christian Kopp, an aged resident of New Middleton, Ind., has been dumb. The other night he awoke and saw a burglar in his room. He let out a yell that awakened the neighbor hood and scared the intruder out, and since that time he has been able to talk as well as ever, his voice having been literally scared back into him.

A crusade has been started in England against the enormous hats now decried by Dame Fashion to be the proper thing for fastening down feminine headgear. The cause is the recent blinding of several persons by the pins, which are so long that they project far beyond the wearer's head. When a woman wearing one of these articles comes within a foot of any one else, as in a crowd, for instance, she is more dangerous than a person carrying a umbrella under his arm, and the blinding of several persons in London under such circumstances has started the movement against the dangerous hat.

Twenty-five dollars for a husband is a pretty small price, but when Mrs. Hannah Robinson, of New York city, had an offer of that sum for her other half, she thought it was a bargain, and like any woman, unable to resist her bargaining instincts, accepted the offer, and the purchase money, Mrs. Robinson, a widow, paid over the money after the sale had been duly drawn up in proper legal form by a notary. For three days Mrs. Robinson thought she had made a smart move, but at the end of that time the money was gone, and then she wanted her hubby back. Both hubby and Mrs. Gray refused to accede to this request, however, and left town to avoid further trouble.

It is a pretty bad thing to ask a person to believe that a man could walk ninety miles over country roads while asleep. That is the story that comes from Elgin, Ill., however, and is not without reasonable foundation for belief. Michael Lawler was picked up wandering around the streets of that city, bareheaded and only half dressed and in an apparently dazed condition. He said he was a wanderer at Sterling, and that he went riding at that place the day before, and remembered nothing more until he found himself in Elgin. His relatives were notified and they explained that he was a consumptive, and had frequently been known to walk long distances in his sleep. If the man's story is true, he walked ninety miles while unconscious, and his feet bear evidence of a long tramp.

A queer case of complicated relationship has turned up at White Plains, N. Y. Some time ago Harold M. Wise, a son of Mrs. Julia Steves by her first marriage, married Elizabeth M. Sawyer. His mother did not favor the marriage, and appealed to the courts to have it annulled on the ground that her son was under the legal age. While the matter was pending in the courts, a son was born to the couple. Shortly afterward the court annulled the marriage, thus leaving the little one without legal parents. Mrs. Steves came to the relief of the young mother, who was keeping her baby at her father's house, and adopted the youngster as her son. This adoption, according to the New York law, makes him legally her own son, and thus the baby will have to grow up under the responsibility of being an orphan to his own father, and son of his grandmother.

OUT TO LAY DUST.

The Pennsylvania railroad company is at present about to make the experiment of sprinkling a specially prepared oil on its line between Lancaster and Danvers, on the Baltimore and Potomac division, near Washington, as a means of reducing the dust nuisance. The oil is distributed along the roadbed by means of a specially constructed car. The sprayer is a comparatively simple contrivance, and with gun hose and pipes, is connected to an ordinary oil tank or filled with the oil. The spreading of the oil over the roadbed is accomplished at the rate of about four miles an hour. The sprayer is so constructed that not a particle of the oil falls on the rails. This, of course, is a necessary precaution, since it would be impossible for a locomotive to haul its train were the rails covered with oil. Between 1,000 and 5,000 gallons of oil will be required for each mile of double track, and it is said that one application will allow the dust and dirt for a year. Should the experiment prove satisfactory, it is probable the entire line between Washington and New York will be sprinkled.

To be angry is to revenge the fault of others upon ourselves.—Pope.

OUR WESTERN HERITAGE.

THE HAPPENINGS OF THE GREAT WEST BRIEFLY TOLD.

A Resume of the Events of the Week Told in Short and Interesting Items—Prominent People, Their Sayings and Doings.

The Cariboo Hydraulic company cleaned up $50,000 in gold for forty-seven days' work.

L. J. Edwards has been committed for trial on a charge of embezzling $1,000 from a Kamboos cattle company.

The C. P. R. have in view the construction of steam tramways on such portions as are necessary to connect the Manitou gold mining region with the C. P. R. by way of Wabington.

A student of Manitoba college, Winnipeg, has been asked to go to the Klondyke as a missionary of the Presbyterian church. He will prepare the way for others to follow next year.

Wheat has been grown at Fort Outhay on the Yukon, in latitude 56. This would give color to the prophecy that the Great Peace river country will yet produce its million of bushels of Red Eye.

Joseph Martin, ex-M. P. for Winnipeg, has decided to locate permanently in Vancouver. He will be admitted to the bar of British Columbia in a few weeks and will then resume the practice of law.

A monument is to be erected at Norway House in memory of Frederick Stanley Simpson, who lost his life in attempting to save his superior officer. The stone is erected by Mr. J. A. Campbell and other friends of the deceased.

Prof. W. Saunders, director of experimental farms, is authority for the statement that Prof. Robertson's trip to England to advance the trade in dairy products and fresh meats, has been most successful. The effect of this trade has already been felt in Manitoba.

Two or three Victorians have gone into the dog business, and placed an order for fifty Manitoba canines admirably adapted for northern work in which the St. Bernards have proven themselves useless, their feet being too tender for the brackens.—Victoria Colonist.

It now transpired that Woods, who was hanged the other day at Nelson, B. C., killed his own father. It appears that Woods senior deserted his wife and child years ago in the States and the son swore to kill his father. He nursed his revenge and it is said after beating the deserter of his mother he broke into his house and shot him. Woods senior talked for days before death but would say nothing of the murder, nor would the condemned man talk or disclose his identity.

THE DAY NOT FAR OFF.

Debs, the Labor Leader Says an Uprising of Workmen is Imminent.

The conference of labor leaders of the country, which has been in session at St. Louis, Mo., for two days, has finished its work. The meeting was productive of several sensational speeches and many resolutions, yet no decisive action was taken in the matter for which the gathering was summoned—the abolishment of government by injunction. The convention which had been announced as the last one of its kind to be held, while adjourning since, has merely postponed action on the matters before it for three weeks, as a call for a similar conference to be held in Chicago, Monday, September 27 was issued. The convention ordered its chairman, Mr. Patterson, of the International Typographical union, to request President McKinley in the name of the convention to call a special session of congress for the purpose of settling the matter of injunctions.

Eugene A. Debs dominated the convention, and the famous labor leader carried the convention off its feet the last afternoon. In one of his characteristic speeches, a resolution calling on all workers to work to desert their posts, and turning them over to the government, was adopted as they remained on duty. Mr. Debs, in the course of his speech, Mr. Debs said: "I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr. Debs, "but I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that civil liberty is being attacked. I have said, and say again, for the first time, I have appealed to the courts for justice and shall appeal to them, no more. The time has not quite come to incite the people," said Mr

—OF—
Mr. and Mrs. Peacocke.

[illegible][illegible]

